Don't abandon your "friend"

Nowadays, the problem of pet abandonment becomes more and more present. This particular situation brings a lot of negative consequences both to the animals' living state and the society.

Pet abandonment should be punishable, as it only causes problems and creates an unbearable living situation. First of all, those innocent creatures are forced to survive on their own in a place that is unfamiliar to them and as a result can be extremely dangerous. Moreover, cities and towns are surrounded by abandoned pets creating a negative state to the society. Starving dogs and cats are lurking around, trying to find food and shelter, which can make them aggressive towards people. They can also be the cause of many car accidents.

Adopting and taking care of a pet is considered to be highly beneficial to peoples' mental health. A pet is one of people 's best friends. They are always present, trying to cheer their owner and it is proved that having a pet improves people's mental state. In addition, by giving home to an unprotected animal, you offer them a chance to find joy, as well.

In conclusion, pet abandonment only causes harm and people should be very mindful before having a pet, as it is a very serious responsibility.
